

Dear WJEIS Readers,

WJEIS appears on your screen now as Volume 3, Number 2. In this issue it publishes 26 articles.

Colleagues that are in editorial board worked hard to determine the articles of this issue. There are also some articles that were presented in "4th International Conference on New Trends in Education and Their Implications" that took place between 25-27 April 2013 with the contribution of 28 countries. Articles are evaluated by the referees that are either in editorial board or outside the board. According to the evaluations, some articles that were presented in "4th International Conference on New Trends in Education and Their Implications" will also be published in our next issue.

Although WJEIS is a new journal, it has been welcomed with interest. A lot of journals from various universities are in the evaluation process. We would like to thank cordially our colleagues who work hard in editorial board to evaluate the articles, writers who contribute to our journal and all readers.
